Poem of the Week

J Know Why The Caged Bird Sings* - Maya Angelou

A free bird leaps on the back of the wind and floats downstream till the current ends and dips his wing in the orange sun rays and dares to claim the sky. But a bird that stalks down his narrow cage can seldom see through his bars of rage his wings are clipped and his feet are tied so he opens his throat to sing.

The caged bird sings with a fearful trill of things unknown but longed for still and his tune is heard on the distant hill for the caged bird sings of freedom.

The free bird thinks of another breeze and the trade winds soft through the sighing trees and the fat worms waiting on a dawn bright lawn and he names the sky his own

But a caged bird stands on the grave of dreams his shadow shouts on a nightmare scream his wings are clipped and his feet are tied so he opens his throat to sing.

Teacher Interview

Mrs. Huerta

Who was the most influential person in your life? My grandfather & Mother, They have taught me not to give up to, fight for what I believe in and for what I Want, to believe in myself, and to appreciate the values i have learned, Honesty , Work hard , the importance of putting my family first and to be united.

What has been the biggest challenge in your teaching career? The biggest challenge is seeing the need of children not met! It is hard to watch them go through this process. I can do my best to do my part and I try to touch and encourage everyone to join in on helping so that we can do it together...

What advice would you give to students that want to pursue careers but do not have the support base at home to encourage them? I urge all children to be encouraged especially high school students, to take advantage of every moment life gives like this time they have in school to learn from every class, teacher, subject...because life goes on and time does not stop...Do not to give up to, fight for what you believe in and for what you...enjoy the Fruits God will give you for focusing on ...Your career is not what others want it is what you want and believe.
